

This is the Landing Page. Meera, the Yellow highlights are user "touch" actions – you can focus on them. The other comments are for data and server, and general features.

Fig 1 also opens when use selects:

In Fig 3 (MyPlaces, when user picks an individual selection)

In Fig 4 (optional): (Map) Line 9 and 10.

In Fig 6. (Only if originally saved from Fig 1. But if a threaded Chat was saved, then show that in Fig 2.)

In Fig 7: His Chat – if it was a first chat.

(Meera – for now, you can just use MS = Saved; MP = MyPlaces; Chat = for Chat in the Figures. Diego will design the icons. This document is not complete. But its pretty good.)

To Fig 4. "Chat" navi is highlighted in F1, to show and encourage its use in F1. The F4 could/is-to overlay on top of F1 or be its own screen.

<Ignore for now> is the Account Admin (slides out from Left): User Functions; Trash folder; Profile Settings (change pic), etc. TBD.

SSID comes from Line 19 menu in F4; or from our sniffing in the App; or from our Server based on GPS, etc. Secure/Open - same.

Picture frame is square in F1 and in F2. It denotes the first chat, or topic opening.

The pic is loaded by User at F4 or in the Account Admin

Touching the Pic/Icon will open a profile menu to show information

Swiping any Chat (in Fig 1 and Fig 2) ---- Left goes to Trash; if to Right goes to Fig 6.

This Fig opens when user selects the MyPlaces Tab in any figure.

The data for Lines 12 to 14 comes from same data store as from line 10 and 11; and line 17 in Fig 1.

When user Long Press, it goes to Fig 1 and content is that Chat board.

But the Visited in line 14 comes when the user was at that location last time.

The return below is same as the (<) back. Home is Home. But the settings opens a dialogue box (comes up from the bottom and the content is specific to each screen.)

Once a user had opened the app and logged on to a place it is saved to his location.

I don't know what to do with this Chat tab in Fig 3. Because, where will that Chat be posted? To Fig 1 or Fig 2? Thus, let's deactivate it. But, keep the Saved and MyPlaces positions in their current places.

Here we explain what this is for. Or not! We put into the FAQ. In the 3 dots. BTW: It would be nice that the FAQ has the information related to that screen at the top of its list.

System/App has to decide if to frame the pic area in Sq* or Circle.) If Chat from Fig 1, then Sq; if from Fig 2, then round.

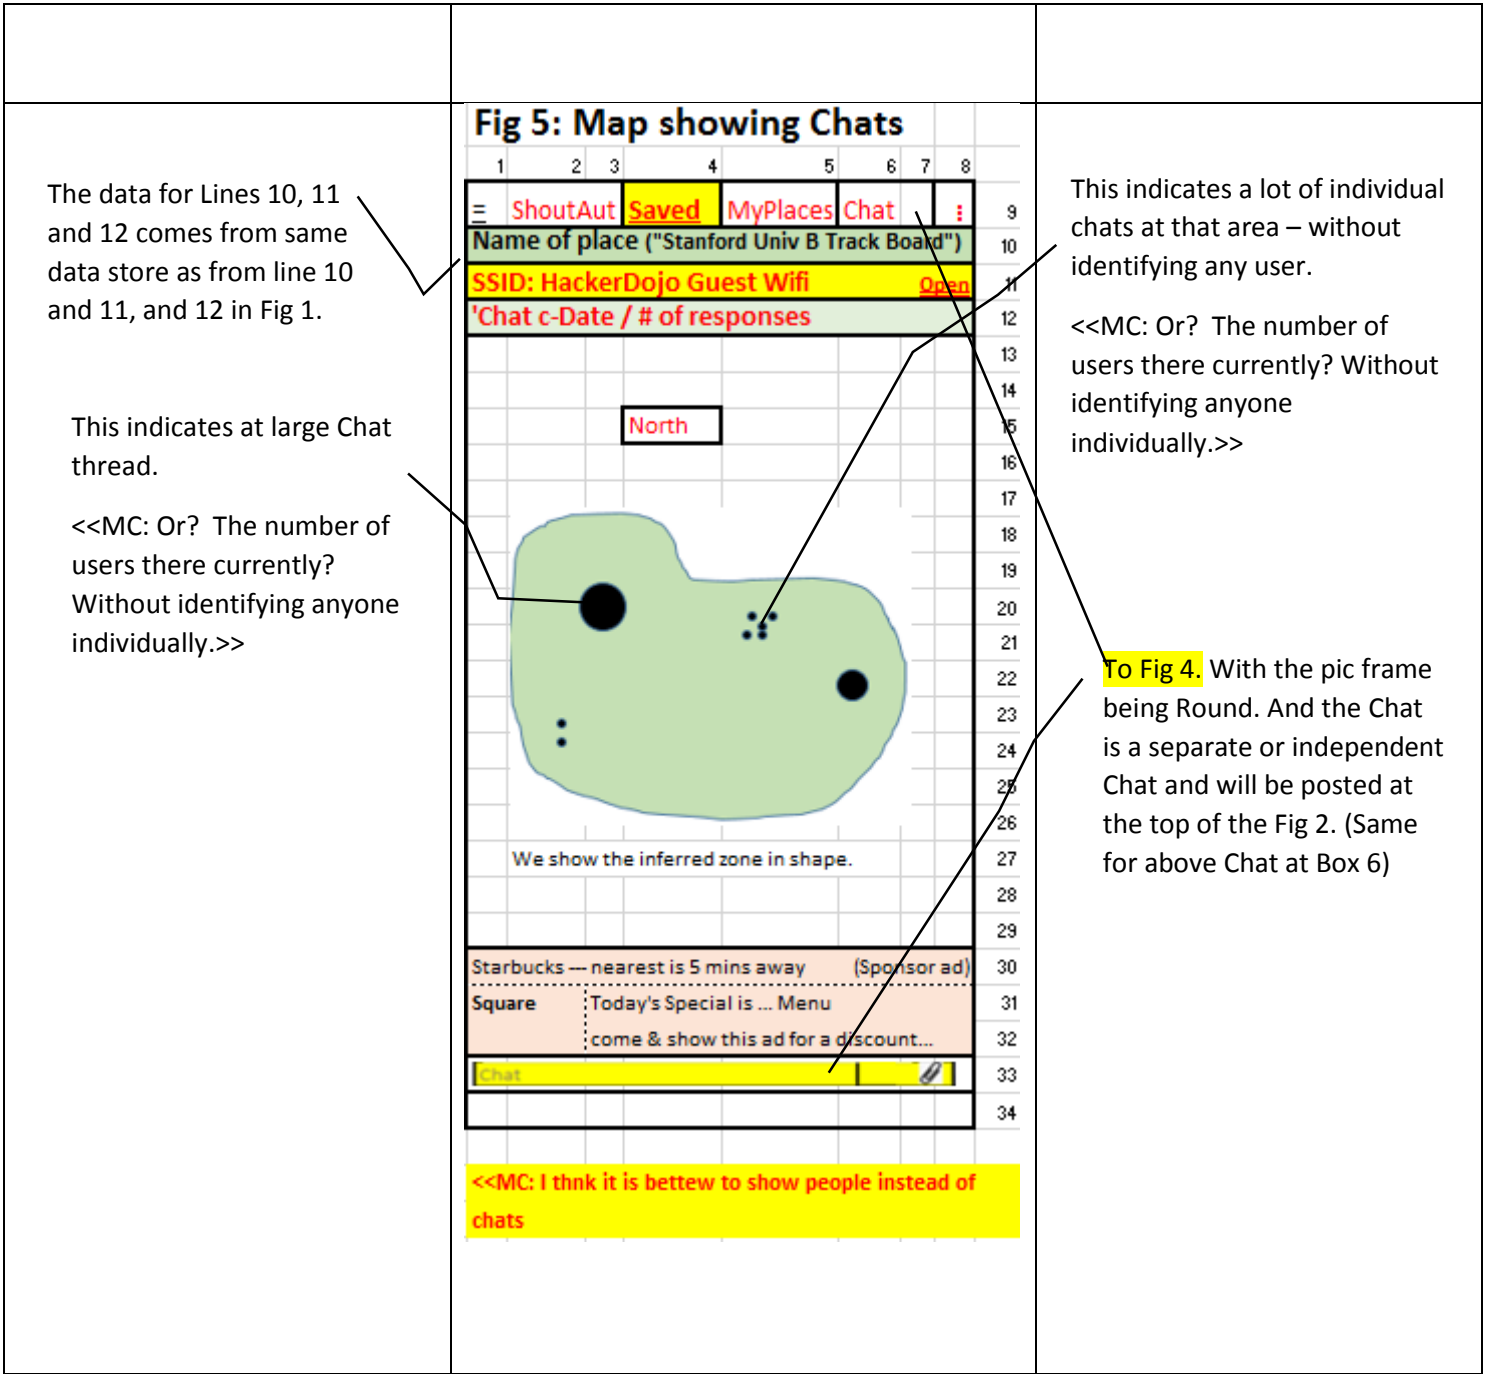

User can insert at these spots. One image or object per section. We will have a set dimension. We will

When Fig 4 loads, the cursor is at under the “C” in Compose. The “Compose Chat” and other instructions in this Compose area is greyed or soft colors to indicate that they are to be overwritten.

This is an alternate compose screen (instead of above Lines 11 to Line 22). It is bigger and thus easier for user to compose and add content. Also, the font to be slightly bigger – so that it’s roughly similar to when the user see in the “narrower” chat views in Fig 1 and Fig 2.

The data for Lines 12, 13, and 14 comes from same data store as from line 10 and 11, and 12 in Fig 1.

Please note Line 14 "Saved". That is the time and date the Chat was saved.

To Fig 2. Either to the top of that Chat or to the top of the Chat thread – whichever was originally saved.

Here, the User's own Chat was saved (only to show in here that the top of a thread can be saved.) Thus, Fig 2 will open, but to the top of the Chat thread. (I am assuming that some will have several threads.)

This is another alternate view of Fig 6

The user has pressed the 3 dots at Fig 6 and selected "MySaved". It would be nice to show "MySave" in the drop down menu – (but not necessary)

It would be nice to show at the top of and in the respective screens' FAQs, the information or topic, specific to that screen. (The FAQ dialogue box is not made yet.)

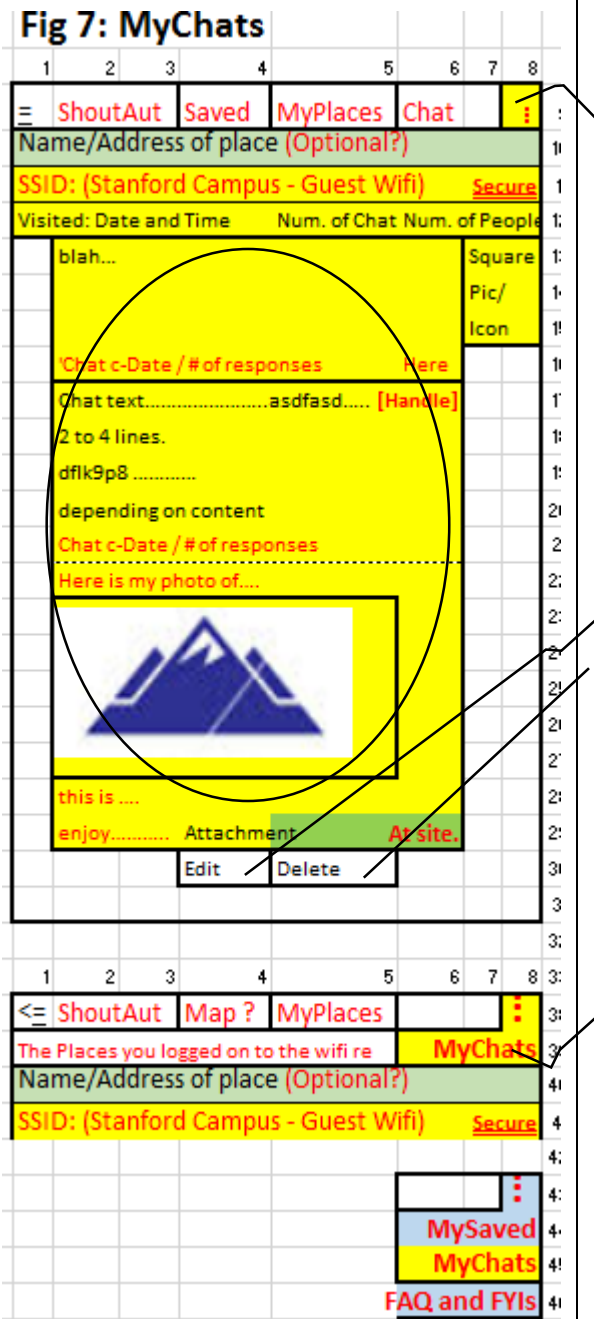

The purpose of MyChats is twofold.

One is to aggregate in one view, the user's chat activities.

The other is for him to edit or delete it.

In this example at right, the user's entire original Chat Posting is shown.

He can select edit or delete at the bottom.

The user had pressed the 3 dots and selected MyChats.

To Fig 4 – to allow edit. Ideally, user could select another Wifi to post there. (Thus same Chat can be posted at different locations.)

The user has pressed the 3 dots at Fig 6 and selected "MyChats". It would be nice to show "MyChats" in the drop down menu – (but not necessary)
